WILLIMANTIC SUPERIOR COURT.

Judge Shumway Restores Rev. Fr. De Bruycker's Case to the Docket—Other Cases Restored.

It was motion day in the superior court in this city Friday and seven of the cases which had been stricken from the court docket by Judge Milton A. Shumway were restored to the request of interested attorneys who showed reason why they should be restored. Among those restored was that of Rev. Arthur DeBruycker, former pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church of this city, against Anthony Blum of Boston, a gold mine promoter.

Granted the Motion.
Attorney William A. King, representing the plaintiff in the case, asked that it might be restored since it might be tried in October when Rev. Arthur DeBruycker, who is at present in Belgium settling the large estate left by his mother, would return.

Attorney Charles Searls, who represents the defendant, opposed the restoration of the case on the docket. He said that, while the case was restored to the docket, it would not be tried until the plaintiff had returned to this city, and that no one knew if the plaintiff would return to the case. As far as the case was concerned, when the trial of it started last year, the defendant had the plaintiff "locked to a frazzle."

This did not appeal to Attorney William A. King, who resented the remark and said that it was not for the state attorney to minimize the plaintiff's case. The plaintiff was a Roman Catholic priest who had been stricken out of between $6,000 and $8,000. When the case was taken up last year most of the evidence had been introduced and the only thing which stopped the case from coming to an end was the fact that the defendant was stricken with illness and even could not put in an appearance on the day the case was postponed to. He was the one who brought the motion to restore the case to the docket.

Other cases restored were: City of Willimantic vs. George E. Stiles; William N. Potter, Adm'r vs. Mary A. Turner; Theodore R. Converse, Rec't vs. Ella G. Stevens, executrix of estate of William P. Stevens; Richard Robinson vs. William R. Marland, warden of borough of Danielson, et al.; Lenore Little, et al., appeal from probate of will of John S. Little, et al.; Carver, et al.; Everett Moulton vs. John Skinner; Sophia Morency vs. Joseph Morency; Francis A. Inman and others vs. Horace Peint Works Company; William H. Kimball, administrator vs. The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company.

Decision Reversed.
During the short calendar session of court a summary judgment in the case of Horace Peint Works Co. vs. Lenore Little, et al., was made by Judge Shumway. The case was argued by Attorney Charles E. Searls for the defendant and Attorney Theodore R. Converse for the plaintiff. Attorney Searls for the defendant maintained that the complaint did not set forth any state of facts which would prove the defendant guilty of anything. On the other hand, Attorney Converse maintained that the facts as alleged, if proved in court, would show the defendant guilty of conversion. Judge Shumway reserved his decision in the matter.

In the case of the Lorraine company of this city against John S. Hurley, a former restaurant keeper of this city, Judge Shumway granted a motion for default. The amount on which default was granted is $115.20.

In Putnam Next Week.

Superior court will be in session in Putnam next week. The following cases will be tried during the week: Theodore R. Converse vs. Ella G. Stevens, executrix of estate of William P. Stevens; Richard Robinson vs. William R. Marland, warden of borough of Danielson, et al.; Lenore Little, et al., appeal from probate of will of John S. Little, et al.; Carver, et al.; Everett Moulton vs. John Skinner; Sophia Morency vs. Joseph Morency; Francis A. Inman and others vs. Horace Peint Works Company; William H. Kimball, administrator vs. The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company.

Collector Snow Means Business.

That R. O. Snow, the personal tax collector, means business, was made evident Friday morning, when he had six delinquents before the police court charged with refusing to pay their taxes. It was the first sort of advertising for his business and consequently all day long there were men who did not care to be haled into court and pay several dollars more than what the tax really is.

Those who were in court, charged with refusing to pay their taxes were Giuseppe Piscitello, aged 28, of No. 32 Brick row; John Phippen of No. 28 Walnut street; Stephen Duddeck, Frederick Goodrich and Shirlie Had-dard. The last one claimed that he was only 20 years and 10 months old. This case was continued until Saturday for investigation. The others were fined $2 and they paid. The total fine and costs in each case was $8.00.

Postoffice Statistics.

Postmaster Charles H. Dimmick on Friday made public the result of the counting of mail in the office during May. The task was not an exceedingly large one for the month, but it had to do the work, but the result, as set forth in tables, and which will be forwarded to the postoffice department at Washington, is not without interest. The total amount of pieces of incoming and outgoing mail handled by the clerks was 129,042, an average of 10,922 daily. The incoming mail exceeded the outgoing mail by 21,912 pieces. The incoming mail numbered 150,954.
